

“Remember the Alamo!”

Americans “remember the Alamo” as an intriguing event in Texas history. You are to investigate the events that occurred and you are to choose a person who participated in the ‘battle’ and research him. Who was he? What was his role at the Alamo? What did he contribute? What happened to him? Etc. What happened at the Alamo? What was the importance of this event? Why do we still “remember the Alamo”?

Your report should be at least one page. Try to find some unknown or interesting facts about your chosen person.

Your second option is to write a song based on your research of your person. You will still need the research but you can create an original song based on them. It can be in any style you like and will need to be "performed" for the class. This does not necessarily mean you need to sing , you can read the song to the class.
